DEFENSE OF LOUIS GODOLA

Counsel Declares that Shooting of Lander Was Accidental.

MEN WERE FRIENDS FOR ELEVEN YEARS

Enters a Denial that There Was a Quarrel Between the Two Preliminary to the Fatal Shooting.

Louis Godola will set up the defense that the shooting of William Lander was accidental. It was so stated by counsel to the jury yesterday morning.

When criminal court opened at 9:30 o'clock yesterday the work of empaneling the jury to try Godola on the charge of murder in the first degree was resumed. William Lander, the attorney who represented Godola for cause and peremptory, and the following named gentlemen were sworn as the jury to hear and decide the case:

C. P. Brinkley, M. J. Howell, E. Simon, W. D. Bailey, A. C. Cady, George Davis, William H. Miller, John Jackson, M. H. Holbrook, Lou Twinner, Walter W. Freeman and Frank Hensman.

Deputy County Attorney Thomas, in attempting to state to the jury what he expected to prove had to be called to order by the court several times. First, he undertook to tell the jury about the law in the case, and Judge Baker interrupted him with:

"The questions of law involved in this case must be left to the court, and the court will instruct the jury at the proper time."

Then the prosecutor began to tell the jury that in the opinion of the county attorney is, said Judge Baker, sharply. "You just state what the county attorney expects to prove."

Gets Down to Business.

Mr. Thomas finally hit the right track and outlined to the jury the evidence the state expected to produce. He said he expected to prove that Lander and Godola had a quarrel over a card game in Joseph God's saloon on the night of April 11, that about ten or fifteen minutes later Godola drew a revolver from his pocket and fatally shot Lander, and that there was sufficient time between the quarrel and the shooting for Godola to premeditate the crime.

One of Godola's lawyers then stated to the jury that the defense would produce witnesses to show that there was no quarrel between Godola and Lander on the night of the shooting, that the two men had been close friends for eleven years and were good friends at the time the fatal shot was fired.

"We will show," said the lawyer, "that this shooting was purely accidental. Mr. Godola was not in the habit of carrying a revolver on his person, and, as we will show by witnesses, he had good reason to arm himself before he left home on this particular night. The evidence will show that Godola was intoxicated at the time the revolver was discharged, but that fact will not be put forth as a defense for the monstrous crime charged here, although it will explain how it was possible for such a deplorable accident to have occurred."

Joseph Gee, the proprietor of the saloon in which the shooting was done, was the first witness called by the state. He had seen Godola shoot Lander, but had not observed any quarrel between the two men. After the shooting Lander asked of Gee: "Who did this?" and Godola said: "I did it, but, my God, it isn't possible he's hurt." Then Gee heard Godola say to Lander: "You're not hurt, Will, brace up and let's go home."

Policeman Testifies.

Officer Johnson testified that he was at the scene of the shooting within a few minutes after it occurred. He found Lander on the floor and Godola said to Lander: "Come, Bill, brace up; you ain't goin' to die." Johnson identified the revolver taken from Godola at the time and it was introduced in evidence.

Officer Riekelman corroborated Johnson's testimony, and then Dr. Laverne and Worley testified as to the nature of Lander's wound and as to his death.

An attempt was then made to lay a foundation for the introduction of a statement made by Lander to the deputy county attorney a couple of hours before his death.

C. C. Valentine, the stenographer who took the statement, and Dr. Worley, Rev. Winthrop Allen and Mrs. Joseph Lander, who were present at the time, were examined, but from their evidence it did not appear conclusively that Lander believed that he was going to die at the time he made the statement, and the attorneys for Godola made a strong objection to its introduction. Judge Baker deferred his ruling on the objection until this morning.

THREATENS TO KILL BY FIRE.Dreadful Charge Made in Wife's Petition for Divorce.

Mamie E. Shiffman, in a petition for divorce filed in the district court, declares that her husband, John F. Shiffman, threatened several times to kill her. She says that on one occasion her husband came at her with a kerosene can and said he was going to saturate her clothing with oil and burn her to death. At another time, so says the petition, Shiffman pointed a loaded pistol at his wife and declared his intent to shoot her.

Louise Hutton and Robert Hutton were married at Toledo, O., in 1895, and now the wife seeks a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and non-support. Mrs. Hutton asserts that her husband has beaten her with his fists on more than one occasion.

Charles Howard has begun suit for divorce against Lizzie Howard, declaring in his petition that his wife at one time seized a sharp knife and threatened to cut his heart out. He says further that his wife has a disreputable habit of staying out until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

Judge Fawcett has granted a divorce to Josephine Bordwell from Charles E. Bordwell on the ground of cruelty. The court gives Mr. Bordwell the custody of the only child until further order.

Briefs from the Courts.

The hearing of G. C. Porter, which was set for yesterday in the county court, has been postponed to June 4.

The jury in the case of Joseph Stanley against City Robinson & Co. brought in a verdict for the defendants yesterday.

Jeffrey Manufacturing company against Cavalier Coal and Railway company, for $1,125 for goods and labor, is on trial in Judge Shuford's court.

Molly Holting asks the county court to appoint her administratrix of the estate of the late Hans Holting of Millard precinct. The deceased left about $750 worth of real estate.

Eva L. Kent has petitioned the county court to appoint her administratrix of the estate of the late H. H. Kent. The estate consists of about $2,500 worth of personal property.

In the case of George Archibald against the Pacific Express company, Judge Keyser instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant, Archibald, sued for $40,000, alleging malicious prosecution.

MAIL ORDER TRADE BOOMS

Dry Goods and Millinery Houses Have Remarkable Rush of Business.

Managers of Omaha wholesale dry goods and millinery houses report the permitted mail order business for this season of the year that they have ever experienced. June and July are usually quiet months in the jobbing houses, but this year the force of packers and others engaged in handling mail orders is kept busy.

The rush is accounted for by the increase in the buying power of the residents of the district tributary to Omaha. In the spring the merchants purchased somewhat larger stocks than last season, but as soon as the late spring permitted the consumers came in with demands far in excess of the expectations of the retailers and refill orders began to be received in an unprecedented manner. The summer trade is exceeding even the trade of the spring in refill orders.

Warm spring days produce a feeling of drowsiness if the body is loaded with the impurities of winter diet. Cleanse the blood, liver and bowels with Prickly Ash Bitters. It creates energy and cheerfulness.

Music and Art. 1513-1515 Douglas We do artistic tuning.

has been designed with that fact in mind and is specially adapted to such figures as require to gain additional slenderness at the back, while it will be found becoming to almost all. The jacket fronts, over the soft-gathered front and fitted girdle, are calculated to suit both the slender figure and those whose outlines require to be apparently reduced, while the basque back means graceful tapering lines. The original is made from tulle in pastel tan, with chemisette of cream chiffon, under sleeves of print de Venice and trimming of Persian bands, but countless materials and combinations might be suggested. Duck is admirable with a batiste front. Cheviot and lightweight cloth are in every way suitable. Wool crepes, albatross and the like are entirely appropriate, while Louisiana and other seasonable silks make a satisfactory effect.

The lining is cut with the usual number of pieces and closes at the center front. Backs and underarm gores are covered smoothly with the material; but the bolero and girdle portions are seamed in with the full front at shoulder and underarm seams. The bodice belt or skirt is laced together at the center front. The sleeves are exceedingly modish and effective. The lining is snug and extends to the waist. To it are attached the full undersleeves and wristbands, but the upper sleeves are separate and are slipped over both. The upper sleeves are slashed and laced together to correspond to the girdle.

To cut this waist for a woman of medium size, 2 1/2 yards of material 21 inches wide, 2 yards 22 inches wide, 1 1/2 yards 24 inches wide, or 1 1/2 yards 50 inches wide, will be required; with 3/4 yard for chemisette, 1/2 yard of all-over lace 18 inches wide for undersleeves and 2 1/2 yards of Persian bands to trim as illustrated.

The pattern 3833 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inch bust measure.

For the accommodation of The Bee's readers these patterns, which usually retail at from 25 to 50 cents, will be furnished at a nominal price, 10 cents, which covers all expense. In order to get any pattern enclosed 10 cents, give number and name of pattern wanted and bust measure. Allow about ten days from date of your letter before beginning to look for the pattern. Address Pattern Department, Omaha Bee.

WILL SET FLAGS A-FLUTTER

Grand Army Suggests Celebration of Old Glory's Anniversary, June 14.

June 14 will be the 124th anniversary of the birthday of the flag of the United States. R. S. Wilcox, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in Nebraska, has issued an order to all posts in the state urging that every effort be made to have flags exhibited everywhere on that day. Veterans are especially urged to have flags placed in the hands of school children on that day and to see that the stars and stripes float above every school house.

Major Wilcox's order is accompanied with a communication from Allan C. Bakewell, who has charge of patriotic education and is under the direction of the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The Habit of Buying—at Raymer's is a good habit—one that is saving your money every month. It is a rapidly growing habit with all in this town and vicinity. It's a habit that day after day becomes more fixed, the oftener people buy here, and they will all tell you they are satisfied to trade here. People are satisfied with Raymer's goods, his prices and the way they are treated at Raymer's store. Look over our Queen Ice Cream Freezer—that we sell for $12.50, and you'll say it's a bargain—Our Leonard Cleanable Refrigerators are built to withstand the roughness of the average ice man.
